

The Brass Family

Brass family instruments produce their unique sound by the player _____ his/her lips while blowing air through a _____ or funnel-shaped _____. To produce higher or _____ pitches, the player adjusts the opening between his/her _____. The mouthpiece connects to a length of brass _____ ending in a bell. The _____ the tubing length, the smaller the instrument and the higher the sound. The longer the tubing length, the _____ the instrument and the lower the sound. The main instruments of the brass family include the _____, French horn, trombone and the _____.

WORD BANK

tubing	cup	lips	tuba	buzzing
larger	mouthpiece	trumpet	lower	shorter

The Brass Family

Brass family instruments produce their unique sound by the player _____ his/her lips while blowing air through a _____ or funnel-shaped _____. To produce higher or _____ pitches, the player adjusts the opening between his/her _____. The mouthpiece connects to a length of brass _____ ending in a bell. The _____ the tubing length, the smaller the instrument and the higher the sound. The longer the tubing length, the _____ the instrument and the lower the sound. The main instruments of the brass family include the _____, French horn, trombone and the _____.

WORD BANK

tubing	cup	lips	tuba	buzzing
larger	mouthpiece	trumpet	lower	shorter